08:48:16 From Anthony Harvey : Well said, Meena Syed. The poorest are entirely capable of climate action but big money stakeholders are standing in the way! Energy optimized insulating rocket stove are affordable to the poorest when produced by rural potters. The stove boils water quickly, e.g., for water treatment, using remarkably little fuel, leaves and sticks in this video. The stove is essentially a furnace, burning up what would be smoke.

09:23:00 From TAMBA BANGALY KAMANO : Hello everyone, I am TAMBA BANGALY KAMANO, an environmental lawyer, legal officer for environmental issues and secretary general of the NGO Defense and Protection of the source of the Niger River from Guinea-Conakry. We thank all the panelists and the different themes are really interesting but we have problems with the translation into French, thank you

09:25:38 From Belay Abera : Integrating SDGs and Delivering a Sustainable Future: 2030 and Beyond. I appreciate the session. My questions How can we/you effectively integrate the environmental, social, and economic dimensions of the SDGs to ensure a holistic approach to sustainable development? Please consider low-income countries here. How can higher education institutions effectively integrate the SDGs into their curricula and research agendas to ensure they contribute meaningfully to sustainable development by 2030 and beyond? I here appreciate the initiative of the Nurture project. Likewise, it is more ideal to include the study areas of food science and nutrition that are directly or indirectly linked to about 8 or more SDGs, in the Nurture and other SDG projects.ab Belay, Ethiopia

09:25:49 From Mange Ram Adhana : Good evening for all from Mr. Mange Ram Adhana President Association For Promotion Sustainable Development from India email apsdhisar@gmail.com

09:26:12 From James Oyesola : James Oyesola from Bayt El- Maarifa (House of Knowledge) Academy Bolton, UK

09:26:48 From Gale Mohammed Oxley : We seem to have a common understanding of integrating the SDGs and forming new targets . The question to having AI and other new technologies such as bit coin and cardless societies has become a hindrance to the SDGs - Can we continue to support these new ideas or do we limit them in the present SDGs whilst creating new targets that can accommodate them?

09:29:07 From Charles Nouhan : As promised by Irena Zubcevic, here is the address of the IntegrateSDGs website: <https://integratesdgs.org/>

09:29:27 From Maricel Elorde : Greetings to everyone!, Maricel Elorde, from Palawan State University, Philippines; melorde@psu.palawan.edu.ph. 🌸

09:29:56 From Anthony Harvey : Kehkashan Basu, I agree with everything you say, except that there is a one approach that fits all.

09:32:55 From samba Simane : hello! I'm Samba SIMANE, from Senegal

09:34:00 From Mohan Vilas Das : Thanks Olga for your perspectives. Mohan, Govardhan Ecovillage

09:34:07 From Anthony Harvey : Jamie, please recall that SDG1 is No Poverty

09:35:03 From Innocent Hankanimana : Once again, Good afternoon!

I think the best way to achieve the SDGs success is to empower and equip the local Civil Society organizations with means/money to help in the implementation.

The local Civil Society organizations know better the need of people they are serving.

Another thing to highlight is about refugees.

I have been a refugee for 23 years and I know the challenges these people do meet in their daily life!

That is why since its creation,our organization, ACAF/FAEA has been working on uplifting the life standard of youth, women and refugees!!!

This to ensure that no one should be left behind but to move together to the glorious road of Self-reliance, to build a sustainable society and for the better future!

09:35:08 From Candace Cable to Hosts and panelists : Hi Candace Cable from Los Angeles CA USA the interconnection also includes Disabled people and they are affected the greatest.

09:36:46 From Zakir_Farmers' Voice_Bangladesh : Rightly said @jamie "Inter connectendness "

09:39:27 From Dosse Sossouga : Behaviour science will be crucial

09:43:53 From Etta D Jackson : We can achieve the implementation of the SDGs by 2030!!!

09:43:57 From Serey Sam : It is difficult to integrate and do the activities for example the visa approval for NGO to do their work so it is also obstacle to achieve SDG because some countries that are corrupt with the dictator of Cambodia are banning activists and civil society to their work. We have find the solution for this human rights crises because Cambodia is the longest human rights abuse inthe world.

09:44:43 From Prof. Prajal Pradhan, University of Groningen to Charles Nouhan(direct message) : <https://www.science.org/doi/abs/10.1126/science.adj5434> here is the paper that David is mentioning

09:44:52 From Prof. Prajal Pradhan, University of Groningen :

<https://www.science.org/doi/abs/10.1126/science.adj5434> here is the paper that David is mentioning

09:45:53 From Dosse Sossouga : Multilateral national, subnationale, local reforms are crucial for SDGs implementation acceleration and SDGs Civil society financing, capacité buildings, trainings are crucial

09:46:06 From Prof. Prajal Pradhan, University of Groningen : Here is the open access version: <https://pure.rug.nl/ws/portalfiles/portal/781740647/science.adj5434.pdf>

09:47:13 From Prof. Prajal Pradhan, University of Groningen : Here is my view on how we can rescue the 2030 Agenda from failing:
<https://academic.oup.com/nsr/article/10/7/nwad015/6986283>

09:47:25 From Rose Alani : Questions we should answer include: 1. how do we get people to change their attitudes ?2. How do we get the 09:48:29 From Dosse Sossouga : We need leadership but the good or better one.

09:49:07 From Ambassador Dr. Muhammad Shahid Amin Khan : Highly appreciated views presented by all panelists, achieving the SDG's goals main problem is inequalities and corruption in governments sector.

09:50:09 From Rose Alani : Questions: 1. How do we get people to change their attitudes? 2. How do we get the people to comply willingly to regulations. 3. How to we make sure policies and regulations are enforced. 4. How do we provide simple alternatives that are not complicated?

09:50:54 From Etta D Jackson : Lack of effective leadership is at the heart of the problem of implementing the 2030 Agenda.

09:52:11 From Anthony Harvey : Policy and decision makers may be afraid that they'd lose their jobs, if they made the tough decisions.

09:53:06 From Krishna Chandra Neupane : Hi Good evening from Kathmandu, I am Krishna Neupane, Institute of Local Governance Studies.

09:53:11 From Balram Sharma to Hosts and panelists : Dear all Panelists, and Dr. David O'Connor, Thank you for your kind remarks and inputs regarding the SDG. special thanks to Stakeholder forum, organizing such event. This is meaningful to understand the SDG and its localization process to under develop countries more.

09:53:54 From Krishna Chandra Neupane to Hosts and panelists : Dr Devid, good evening to you from Kathmandu nepal. If remember we met in Senegal last year.

09:55:41 From Aloysius Irudayam : Only strong pressure from below (the people at grassroots) will make the state institutions implement the 2030 agenda effectively. In this respect, civil society has a big role to play at grassroot level.

09:56:29 From Zakir_Farmers' Voice_Bangladesh : Thanks @david for your insights.

09:56:56 From Majesty Business Utvikling to Hosts and panelists : Thanks for sharing your experiences 🙌

09:58:09 From Ambassador Dr. Muhammad Shahid Amin Khan to Hosts and panelists : may I have 2 minutes

09:58:52 From Adewunmi Ayedun : continuous sensitization,advocacy and education about SDG is key

10:00:03 From Candace Cable to Hosts and panelists : I think it's compassion rather than empathy that is needed. Compassion creates allies and action

10:01:10 From Dr. Kakha NADIRADZE : We need 18 SDG on Circularity and Zero waste Management

10:01:12 From Anthony Harvey : Best practices of sustainability need to be better identified and ranked. Then in-country agencies of standards can do effective evaluations.

10:02:32 From Erosa Orhue : I think the time is not really a challenge, but whose job and responsibility to ensure these (SDG) are done, especially bridging the inequality among state actors.

10:04:01 From Menchu Benavides Guijarro : We need all hands, in all sectors to move further. As people in the world suffer more frequently the strength of the Climate Crisis, which affect all and everyone, more consciousness is and more pressure on those in power to ACT, instead to continue business as usual.

Thank you for this very interesting session, and for bringing hope. 😊

10:04:16 From samba Simane : I agree. sensibilisation, advocacy and advocacy are very important.

Thanks a lot for this very important presentation

10:04:47 From Anthony Harvey : Thanks to all! You are the best!

10:04:48 From Etta D Jackson : SDG#17 is the integrating element of the Agenda

10:05:41 From Solomon Poloyah : Thank you so much everyone

10:06:50 From Zakir_Farmers' Voice_Bangladesh : Thanks all for the strength of redesigning and paradigm shifting

10:07:08 From Rose Alani : Thank you very much. It was a very wonderful discussion.

10:07:16 From Taye Teferi : Many thanks to the moderator and the passionate panelists!

10:07:25 From Serey Sam : Thank you very much

10:07:34 From samba Simane : Thanks agai. Please, share with us more opportunities concerning the SDGs opportunities

10:07:36 From Asikaralu Okafor : Thanks to everyone

10:07:48 From Rita Chinda to Hosts and panelists : Thank you for a very knowledgeable session

10:07:49 From Maricel Elorde : Thanks to all and the organizer of this great event! Mabuhay to everyone! 🌸 PH

10:07:50 From James Oyesola : Thank you

10:07:56 From Prof. Prajal Pradhan, University of Groningen : Thank you very much!

10:08:04 From Douglas Omoruyi : Thank you so much!

10:08:05 From Indra KM Htaik : Thanks for the lively visual session!

10:08:13 From Chioma Ehis-Eriakha : Thank you to all our speakers and panelist. Great and insightful discussion

10:08:24 From Diana Papademas : Thank you.

10:08:25 From Dr. Kakha NADIRADZE : Much appreciated having discussing and having us

10:08:28 From Iman Abdel Al to Hosts and panelists : Thank you

Excellent as usual

10:08:31 From Dr. Kakha NADIRADZE : Best regards Kakha

10:08:32 From Richard Anthony : Thank you

10:08:33 From Sukanta Behera : Thank you all
